

2021 DANUBE WATER CONFERENCE

Building a Resilient and Water Secure Danube Region

Dear colleagues and friends of the Danube Water Program,

It is with great pleasure and anticipation that we invite you to take part in the 2021 Danube Water Conference "Building a Resilient and Water Secure Danube Region" to be convened on October 18-20 followed by Business Meetings on October 21 (by invitation only).

Faced with the unpredictable nature of the pandemic and dedicated to the health and safety of everyone involved, we have decided to take the Danube Water Conference virtual. However, keeping in mind the ever-growing webinar fatigue, we have decided to introduce a new type of virtual event, hosted on the leading-edge digital conference management platform Swapcard -- this is not your average webinar. At the virtual Danube Water Conference, you can customize your schedule and create a personalized profile for networking with participants, panelists, and exhibitors.

Pick and choose what is relevant to you! Join an exciting two-track conference covering water security and water supply and sanitation services. Spend three inspiring afternoons attending short, crisp sessions in a variety of engaging session formats. Sit down with colleagues in the virtual space for safe 1-on-1 networking and take a tour of exhibitor booths. Enjoy a nearly real-life conference experience without having to leave your chair.

Employing the latest virtual conference technology comes at a cost, and we thank our corporate partners who help us to make this meeting possible and keep admission fees affordable. We are able to offer you the three-day ticket for € 80, with a 35% discounted fee for IAWD members. Make your registration now on the Event's page (please see attached How to register guideline for further information). If, for any reason, you would like to join the Conference, but the registration fee prevents you from doing so, please reach out to us (office@danube-water-program.org) and we will try our best to accommodate on an exceptional basis.

Find all further details including the Conference Agenda on the conference website.

We are looking forward to welcoming you at this outstanding event for our community and remain always at your service,

Sincerely,

Walter Kling
